Workers' rights and a living wage in Cambodia now

Cambodian garment workers demonstrating for an increased minimum wage in line with a living wage of US$160 a month were brutally attacked. The Cambodian military police opened fire on the peaceful protest leading to 4 killings, 39 injuries, 23 arrests and 166 sackings. The 23 arrested workers have been refused bail and the court hearings continue.

IndustriALL Global Union, UNI Global Union and the ITUC are mobilising international support and working with clothing brands who purchase from Cambodia. The Cambodian government has so far been unresponsive while the garment manufacturers have taken a hostile and confrontational approach to the union demands.
